California Labor Organizations Do Not Consider That It Goes Far Enough.

WILL TRY TO HOLD UP BY REFERENDUM

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., May 24.—Revolutions published today by two powerful San Francisco organizations, make certain that organized labor will seek a "substitute" measure involving the initiative, on the ground that the so-called anti-initiative bill is not strong enough. Reference to the initiative will not delay the present act from going into effect on Aug. 18. Sufficient signatures to call for an election are easily available without going outside of San Francisco.

Exclusion League Urges Election.

Another section of organized labor will seek not only to invoke the initiative but also to call for a referendum election which, if called, would prevent the Webb bill from going into effect until the election was decided, which could not be until November 1914. This is also made public in the resolutions.

Favoring the adoption of referendum as well as the initiative are the Asiatic Exclusion League, Olaf Tveitmo, president, and the San Francisco building trades council, which last Thursday night adopted resolutions approving the stand of the Asiatic Exclusion League. Tveitmo is in prison sentence in connection with dynamiting outrages. Both agree that the present law is "a defective piece of legislation" and that the purpose of the initiative is to "three year lease indefinitely of land in California by alien."

Some Unions Oppose Referendum.

In opposition to this recommendation, the San Francisco labor council, with 200 delegates from the building trades council in attendance, unanimously adopted last night resolutions that the initiative be invoked for a substitute law but that the referendum be not invoked.

This split makes it uncertain what will be the fate of a referendum petition. Twenty thousand signatures are needed.

Secretary Yoell of the Exclusion League, said today that his organization had 117,000 members and that he expected to get 100,000 signatures without difficulty.

If his estimates are correct the attitude of the remainder of organized labor cannot influence the result; there will be a referendum election and the Webb bill will not be effective until November 1914. But the factions are disputed by other labor leaders.

HILES IS GIVEN TWO-YEAR SENTENCE

Near Tragedy at Conclusion of Trial—Another Murder Case Is Immediately Called.

Pecos, Tex., May 24.—The jury in the W. J. Hiles murder case returned a verdict of manslaughter at 10 a. m. today, fixing the minimum penalty at two years and six months in the state penitentiary. The jury made a special recommendation that the defendant be added to the criminal code as a law punishing assaults on married women, with a view of diminishing such homicides. An appeal will be taken.

Go to Jury Friday.

The Hiles case went to the jury Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock after having consumed the entire attention of the court for the week. The charge of Judge S. J. Lusk to the jury was 12 written pages in length.

Most of Thursday afternoon and all of Friday was taken up with the argument of counsel on both sides. The general opinion prevailed when the jury retired, that no verdict could be looked for.

Altercation Avoided.

Considerable excitement was caused, just at the adjournment of court by a scuffle between the state's principal witness and one of the counsel for defense. The latter had handled the witness in a witness in a hostile manner during his arguments, questioning his veracity openly. When the attorney passed into the hall, the witness, who was "tackled" him roughly, and, it seemed, was of the mind to batter him seriously. The lawyer drew a 22 automatic pistol, and the witness threatened to draw the same.

Weight Case Called.

The case against Jim W. Stead, charged with the murder of C. C. Stead, last October, was called by Judge Isaacks, immediately upon the adjournment of the Hiles jury. Motion was made under oath by the defendant for a change of venue from Reeves county. The room was filled with people from all parts of the county, however, and Judge Isaacks decided, after hearing a dozen or more witnesses, that a trial should be had here. This will be another hard fought case.

Subcommittees Contemplate Increasing the Schedules on Cotton.

DEMOCRATS TO HOLD CAUCUS ON JUNE 8

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 24.—Senate subcommittees have struck snags that already assure delay in the program to hasten the tariff bill to consideration in the senate.

Chairmen of the subcommittees today said that although no more manufacturers would be heard after Tuesday it would be impossible to have the schedules ready for the entire committee by the end of the next week.

Some increases of the Underwood rates in the cotton schedules are being contemplated by the subcommittees. It now seems unlikely that the Democratic caucus will be called until the week of June 8 and that may delay the report of the bill to the senate until the middle of June.

Wool and Sugar the Stumbling Blocks of the Tariff.

Great interest is attached to a public statement made by senator Walsh, of Montana, condemning the proposition to put wool and sugar on the free list, which gave rise to a report that he might join with senators Russell and Johnston, of Louisiana, and vote against the bill. The majority in the senate being only six, the vote on the bill would be a tie, necessitating the vote of vice president Marshall to pass it. Should this develop, there are some Democrats, however, senator Tamm, of the only avowed Progressive in the senate, will vote with them. This will give Walsh a "free" vote and a Democratic to desert in the final vote.

Leaders Are Confident.

Administration leaders declare that the situation relating to the much disputed schedules looked favorable for the Underwood bill, but they look forward to a meeting of the senate and party caucus when the southern and western representatives will have an opportunity to make a determined struggle against free wool and free sugar.

A rumor that several of them would unite to remain out of the caucus was denied by party leaders, though one of them declared he would not blame senator Walsh for his position. He said that if it became apparent that the caucus would not yield on sugar and wool.

Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, has made public a list of 25 questions relating to the tariff proposed by southern and western manufacturers of the country. The majority will send with their list, the original 35 questions proposed by the committee. Although most of his are incorporated in the majority list.

The committee announced in a statement that if manufacturers or other persons who have filed briefs or have written or made oral protests to the finance committee, will send answers to the bill, it will be reported back to the senate, they will be printed.

After the report of the bill to the senate no final action by the senate on the bill will be delayed for answers to the bill.

All interrogatories must be answered under oath.

The preliminary questions relate to the manufacturer's identity, the commodity produced, the raw materials used in production, the value of the product, where or abroad, and if imported, from whence; cost per unit of raw material and cost per unit of finished product in foreign countries.

Lane Attacks Indian Bill.

Senator Lane made another attack upon the Indian appropriation bill when it was taken up by the senate today. He charged that the bill, which he did not name—already selected for a place on a commission to the Indians—was a "bill of the Minnesota, was formerly attorney for a lumber company which holds contracts upon which the commission will have to pass."

MUST ISSUE DEFICIENCY WARRANTS SAYS OPINION

Austin, Texas, May 24.—The attorney general's department today in an opinion to the controller holds that appropriations cannot be made either by joint or concurrent resolutions, and that therefore no money can be paid out of the funds so appropriated for the publishing of the proposed constitutional amendments, nor for the legislative committee appointed to investigate the affairs of the penitentiary, and also pardon matters. It is held, however, that these resolutions are valid and the expenses for publishing the amendments may be met by the governor authorizing deficiency warrants.

TELEPHONERS FAVOR STRIKE.

New York, May 24.—Local delegates from the convention of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers at Baltimore, who have reached here, said the vote on the question of a strike of telegraphers on the Erie railroad for an advance of 20 percent in wages had been counted and is overwhelmingly for a strike.

Aspirant For Heavyweight Championship Is Knocked Out by Arthur Pelkey.

FIGHTER DIES SOON AFTER TAKING COUNT

CALGARY, Alberta, May 24.—Luther McCarty, aspirant to the title of champion heavyweight fighter of the world, died from a blow below the heart administered by Arthur Pelkey in the first round of their scheduled 10 round bout today. Death came soon after McCarty had taken the count.

The blow which came stiffly from Pelkey's right hand, hit McCarty's heart, sending him reeling. He fell heavily to the floor. He was counted out by referee Eddie Smith. When he failed to stand on his feet on examination hurriedly was made and he was carried from the ring, dying a short time later.

Hard Blow Follows Ring.

The large crowd of spectators, numbering more than 7000, had hardly settled in their seats in the anticipation of witnessing a hard-fought battle, when Pelkey, following an advantage gained by a clever feint, drew McCarty off his guard, and sent a terrific drive to McCarty's left side, near the heart. McCarty's last effort.

The men had been boxing about a minute, with honors even, feeling each other out. Then they clashed in a landing rights and lefts to the head. McCarty missed a left to the body and Pelkey countered with the short right to the heart. McCarty paled under the blow, then seemed to realize that he was doomed. His legs trembled, but he shot out both hands in a dying effort to win on a single punch.

Pelkey stepped back and as he did, McCarty staggered and fell on his back on the floor. Referee Ed Smith counted, 10, McCarty never rose. A doctor came in and within a few minutes summoned medical aid.

Crowd Was Frenzied.

"What's the matter with McCarty?" came the wild cries from the thousands in the crowded arena, just after the fighter fell under the blow. Before the fight started, and even after McCarty had entered the ring, a expressed confidence and appeared to look upon his opponent as only one of many he could easily handle.

Spectators at first failed to realize that McCarty had been knocked out. Seemingly the wild excitement prevailed for several minutes and the extent of the fighter's injuries for some time was not realized by the crowd.

A deep silence followed the announcement that death had claimed the pugilist. Several conferences were held between those remaining in the arena.

Awarded Title in Fyran Battle.

McCarty won the title of white heavyweight champion when he defeated the Fyran, who had won the title by defeating a champion from a few battles, the most recent being against the Fyran, and won a decision over Frank Moran.

His battle with Pelkey was preliminary to a championship fight which was in prospect. The fight was a victory of Jess Willard at San Francisco. At the time of his death McCarty was 21 years old. He was born at Lincoln, Neb., on March 17, 1892.

Mrs. Thekla Gillon Schuch, the actress bride of the young student, would be given 12 months to atone a desire to leave the stage and, if in that time she convinces her father-in-law of her sincerity, he has agreed to give her employment and set the son and wife up in housekeeping.

A Nation-wide Movement Is Started Against United States Goods and Stores.

PUBLIC MEETINGS IN MEXICO CITY

AMERICAN made goods have been boycotted in Mexico. Stores selling American goods have suffered the same fate. Public meetings have been held in Mexico City, and huge to house canvasses have been made by Mexicans requesting that no American goods be purchased and no American stores be patronized.

As a result of this agitation, stores handling American merchandise have been boycotted and the first day that the boycott went on, the sales of stores handling American merchandise dropped off 50 percent.

This information was received in El Paso Saturday morning in a letter to a prominent resident from a relative in Mexico City.

Result of Government Action.

It is believed that this condition has been brought about on account of the decision of the United States not to recognize the Huerta government until after elections are held in the republic. Americans could not retaliate by refusing to buy Mexican goods. The manufacturers of this time are few and mighty little Mexican product of any kind is being received in El Paso from the republic to the south being supplied by the country in large numbers.

New Consul for El Paso.

Regardless of the lack of recognition by the Mexican government, the Huerta administration continues to appoint consuls in the United States. The new consul for Mexico City has been appointed Mexican consul at El Paso, and will relieve present Mexican consul, who has been in charge of the consulate here, pending the appointment of an authorized representative.

Cesar Chavez, who was first appointed to the El Paso post, but who served only a day, has been attached to the Chicago consulate as consul.

FIND AMMUNITION IN PEDDLER'S WAGON

Border rustlers have adopted a new ruse to smuggle ammunition across the border for the Carranza forces. Two Mexicans, pretending to be peddlers, were arrested by Capt. R. J. Reaney, of troop R, second cavalry, at Clint, Tex., Saturday morning. When their wagon was searched, 110 rounds of .30-caliber ammunition, 132 rounds of .41 rifle cartridges, five rifles, five blankets and a full loaded .38 Smith and Wesson were discovered in the bottom of their wagon.

There were peddling some small trinkets along the road between Clint and Fabens, and it was thought that they were going to Fabens, where they were expected to deliver their ammunition. They were placed under arrest and were brought to Fort Bliss.

MAYOR MAY BE BENEATH THE DEBRIS

LONG BEACH, Calif., May 24.—Scores of people were injured and a number probably killed just before noon today, when a platform in the municipal auditorium, overloaded with spectators assembled to do honor to the memory of the late queen Victoria, collapsed, furnishing a tragic climax to Empire day.

Everyone on the stage fell through the floor of the big building located on the municipal pier, and in an instant the sand beneath the structure was covered by a writhing mass of men and women.

Mayor Hatch, of Long Beach, who was to have been one of the principal speakers of the day, was on the stage, and is believed to be either dead or seriously injured. Just before the stage fell, he stood beside grand marshal Restall. The stage stood about 20 feet above the beach.

Early estimates of the dead ran as high as 50 or 60. The injured, according to the police, will number several scores.

The collapse caused a panic, which the police could not control. An appeal for aid from the Los Angeles police department was answered by several automobile loads of officers.

THIRTY-FIVE DEAD BODIES TAKEN OUT.

Thirty-five dead bodies had been taken from under the pier up to 1:05 p. m., according to a report made to the chief of police.

A thousand or more people had crowded into the auditorium and officers of the various celebration committees had just ascended the rostrum when the crash came.

Shrieks and cries started a rush to see by those outside the building, and curious people were jammed so closely about the dead and injured under the pier that the police could not get to those who needed succor; flying wedges were organized.

When the Los Angeles officers arrived, a cordon was thrown about the scene to hold off the immense throng. Hospital attendants struggled through the crowd with the bodies of the dead and injured victims.

Everyone on the stage went through the flooring into the sands below when the crash came, and, according to police reports, there may be many more bodies in the wreckage than the 35 taken out.

The first 11 dead identified were those of 10 women and one child. Eighteen women were among the first score of injured identified.

Nat Goodwin Marries Again

Wife's Husband Suing Him

Weds Mrs. Margaret Moreland, Whose Husband Charges Alienation.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 24.—Disregarding for the moment the walking stick that has been his constant aid since the accident which nearly disabled him more than a year ago, Nat Goodwin, the actor, smilingly underwent his fifth experience as a bridegroom today, at his home at Ocean Park. The bride was Margaret Moreland, his leading woman on the stage, who was recently divorced from Charles Bowers, a real estate broker of San Diego. Justice J. W. Summerfield performed the ceremony. A suit for $25,000 is now pending against Goodwin by Bowers, charging alienation of affection of his wife.

There were no wedding frills; just the unostentatious legal ceremony in the presence of a few people, personal friends of the bride and groom.

"I am not a hand at this business to want to need any decorations," said Goodwin.

Beaten By Hopper.

He smiled when told that De Witt Hopper, the actor, had been to the church in the matrimonial stick by nearly a week, but he had no comment to make beyond saying that he was not a hand at this business to want to need any decorations.

Goodwin has been living at the Goodwin home for several months, in the role of secretary to Mr. Goodwin. The two were together in a boat on the coast near Redondo, when Mr. Goodwin received injuries that almost cost him his life when the boat overturned in a gale. Miss Moreland nursed the comedian through his illness.

She was his companion recently in his automobile when he ran into and was killed by a car driven by a Los Angeles and his Ocean Park home, and when the lawyer was pleading the case of the farmer, he asked the jury to force Goodwin to pay the damages on the ground that it was certain Goodwin could not have been watching the road when such a heavy car as his was sitting beside him. "He could not have resisted her cry long enough to watch the road," the fourth and Miss Moreland is his fifth.

Goodwin was first married in the early 80's to Miss Elizabeth Weatherly, an actress, who died in 1887. His second wife was not a former of the stage, and they lived together but a short time. Maxine Elliott was Goodwin's third wife, who died in 1908, his fourth and Miss Moreland is his fifth.
